Power2X and CPP Investments conclude their partnership

Amsterdam, the Netherlands, 19 November 2026

Power2X and CPP Investments have agreed to conclude their partnership, with Power2X buying back CPP Investments' shareholding in the company. The partnership, established in 2023, has supported Power2X's development as a European clean molecules project developer. Power2X is now focused on progressing its eFuels Rotterdam project towards final engineering and investment, alongside the development of green hydrogen opportunities in the Netherlands. Power2X appreciates the close and constructive partnership with CPBIB Investments, which has helped to scale an early platform towards a leading European clean molecule developer. Power2X recently received a provisional €90 million grant award from the EU Innovation Fund for its eFuels Rotterdam project and expects to provide a further update on its development and investment plans in the first quarter of 2027. We are currently well financed and very grateful for the close and constructive partnership with CPP Investment over the past three years.
